

Where to begin? I remember playing the suave, womanizing Salvatore in 'Caked in Duels' before my voice had even broken! Jumping out of a plane as a ginger James Bond after wrestling with Steven for the parachute, shooting Andrew Girvan (sorry Andrew), screaming as a golden finger was pushed into my head and the unforgettable car chase scene with Craig and Cristian. Flushing heads down toilets in 'Mump's Surprise', stealing Amy from her wedding in 'Peer Gynt' and trying my hardest not to laugh offstage whilst watching Craig in 'Frankentongs'. For years the Drama Studio was the most exciting part of my week, and I'm so glad I got to be involved in it.
